Franz Joseph Haydn (1732-1809)

The Creation (Die Schöpfung)

The term oratorio has over the centuries strayed a great deal from its original meaning of an extended musical setting of a religious libretto, and has encompassed non-religious dramas for the concert hall (as opposed to stage works). Initially very popular in Italy and thereafter in Germany and France, it reached its zenith in England as a result of Handel's numerous great works in the genre, including of course Messiah. It is from this latter stable that Haydn's great achievement in the form, The Creation, comes.

When Haydn visited London in 1794–95, the impresario J.P. Salomon gave him a libretto which had originally been intended for Handel (by an unknown librettist described by Haydn as "Lidley"). This was for an oratorio to be entitled The Creation and was based on three sources:

1. The Creation story in Genesis,
2. Milton's Paradise Lost and
3. Sections from the Psalms.

From the start Haydn envisaged it as a bilingual work, and asked his friend and patron, the Austrian diplomat Baron Gottfried van Swieten, to translate and produce a German libretto while also revising the English libretto to make it fit the musical setting. Inevitably in the process van Swieten (not an English speaker) produced some rather clumsy syllabic emphases and some strange syntax. Latterly, some English performers have adopted the procedure of giving the work in German or revising van Swieten's English to make it less stilted.

Haydn's The Creation, which was first performed in Vienna on 30 April 1798, was part of an Indian summer of choral pieces that graced his old age. Apart from the six masses he completed for the name day of Princess Maria Hermengild, wife of his employer Prince Nikolaus Esterházy the younger, he also composed the devoutly religious Seven Last Words from the Cross, a choral reconstruction of an earlier instrumental work, and a secular oratorio The Seasons.

But it is The Creation that rises above these other achievements. It stands as one of the true pinnacles of the oratorio repertoire, of equal rank alongside Handel's Messiah and Elgar's The Dream of Gerontius. It is the work of Haydn at his greatest – a man in his mid-sixties, with a wealth of experience, known throughout the musical world.

The influence of his young friend Mozart (who had died in 1791) is there, but his own strong personality and his devout, yet simple nature shines through in some of the most moving music ever penned. Among its most remarkable elements we may consider the shifting, rootless orchestral harmonies depicting chaos at the very outset of the work and the sheer simplicity of the blaze of C major, which accompanies the word 'Light' in 'let there be Light'. Such an effect never fails to impress and excite, and the naive onomatopoeia which accompanies such sections as God created great whales is also unfailingly delightful. So too is the duet O Graceful Consort for Adam and Eve, surely one of the glories of the piece. The work abounds in solo arias of the finest quality and most delightful charm. The heroic nature of the tenor aria In native worth contrasts with the tenderness of the soprano aria In verdure clad, both classics of their kind. Similarly, the sheer strength of such choruses as Awake the Harp, The Heavens are Telling and Achieved is the Glorious Work marks them out among the finest choral movements ever written.

Libretto

The biblical and other texts used in The Creation are sung by three Archangels: Raphael (Baritone), Uriel (Tenor) and Gabriel (soprano) and chorus.

The parts of Adam and Eve are sung by the Baritone and Soprano respectively.

Part the First

Introduction: Representation of Chaos

Recitative – Raphael

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth; and the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep.

Chorus

And the Spirit of God moved on the face of the waters. And God said, Let there be light: and there was light!

Recitative – Uriel

And God saw the light, that it was good: and God Divided the light from the darkness.

Air

Now vanish before the holy beams
The gloomy shades of ancient night.
The first of days appears.
Now chaos ends, and order fair prevails.
Affrighted fly hell's spirits black in throngs:
Down they sink in the deep abyss to endless night.

Chorus

Despairing cursing rage attends their rapid fall.
A new-created world springs up at God's command.

Recitative – Raphael

And God made the firmament, and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament: and it was so.
Now furious storms tempestuous rage,
Like chaff, by the winds impelled are the clouds,

By sudden fire the sky is inflamed,
And awful thunders are rolling on high.
Now from the floods in steam ascend reviving showers of rain,
The dreary wasteful hail, the light and flaky snow.

Air – Gabriel

The mar'v'lous work behold amaz'd
The glorious hierarchy of heaven;
And to th'ethereal vaults resound.
The praise of God, and of the second day.

Chorus

And to th'ethereal vaults resound
The praise of God, and of the second day.

Recitative – Raphael

And God said, Let the waters under the heavens be gathered together to one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was so. And God called the dry land earth, and the gathering of waters called he seas: and God saw that it was good.

Air

Rolling in foaming billows,
Uplifted, roars the boisterous sea.
Mountains and rocks now emerge,
Their tops among the clouds ascend.
Through th'open plains, outstretching wide,
In serpent error rivers flow.
Softly purling, glides on
Through silent vales the limpid brook.

Recitative – Gabriel

And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit-tree yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself, upon the earth; and it was so.

Air

With verdure clad the fields appear,
Delightful to the ravish'd sense;
By flowers sweet and gay
Enhanced is the charming sight.
Here fragrant herbs their odours shed;
Here shoots the healing plant.
With copious fruit the expanded boughs are hung;
In leafy arches twine the shady groves;
O'er lofty hills majestic forests wave.

Recitative – Uriel

And the heavenly host proclaimed the third day,
praising God, and saying:

Chorus

Awake the harp, the lyre awake,
And let your joyful song resound.
Rejoice in the Lord, the mighty God;
For he both heaven and earth
Has clothed in stately dress.

Recitative – Uriel

And God said, Let there be lights in the Firmament of heaven, to divide the day from the night, and to give the light upon the earth;
and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and for years. He made the stars also.

Recitative (Accompanied)

In splendour bright is rising now the sun,
And darts his rays; a joyful happy spouse,
A giant proud and glad
To run his measur'd course.
With softer beams, and milder light,
Steps on the silver moon through silent night.
The space immense of th'azure sky
A countless host of radiant orbs adorns.
And the sons of God announced the fourth day,
In song divine, proclaiming thus his power;

Chorus

The heavens are telling the glory of God,
The wonder of his work displays the firmament.

Trio

To day that is coming speaks it the day,
The night that is gone to following night.

Chorus

The heavens are telling the glory of God,
The wonder of his work displays the firmament.

Trio

In all the lands resounds the word.
Never unperceived, ever understood.

Chorus

The heavens are telling the glory of God,
The wonder of his work displays the firmament.

Part the Second, Scene One

Recitative – Gabriel

And God said, Let the waters bring forth
Abundantly the moving creature that hath life,
And fowl that may fly above the earth in the Open firmament of heaven.

Air

On mighty pens uplifted soars
The eagle aloft, and cleaves the air,
In swiftest flight, to the blazing sun.
His welcome bids to morn the merry lark,
And cooing calls the tender dove his mate.
From ev'ry bush and grove resound
The nightingale's delightful notes;
No grief affected yet her breast,
Nor to a mournful tale were tun'd
Her soft enchanting lays.

Recitative – Raphael

And God created great whales, and every living creature that moveth; and God blessed them, saying, Be fruitful all, and multiply.
Ye winged tribes, be multiplied,
And sing on every tree; multiply,
Ye finny tribes, and fill each wat'ry deep;
Be fruitful, grow, and multiply,
And in your God and Lord rejoice.
And the angels struck their immortal harps,
And the wonders of the fifth day sung.

Trio

Gabriel

Most beautiful appear,
with verdure young adorn'd,
The gently sloping hills;
their narrow sinuous veins
Distil, in crystal drops,
the fountain fresh and bright.

Uriel

In lofty circles play, and hover in the air,
The cheerful host of birds; and as they flying whirl
Their glittering plumes are dy'd as rainbows by the sun.

Raphael

See flashing through the deep in thronging swarms
The fish a thousand ways around.
Upheaved from the deep, th'immense Leviathan
Sports on the foaming wave.

Gabriel, Uriel, and Raphael

How many are thy works, God!
Who may their number tell?

Trio and Chorus

The Lord is great, and great his might, His glory lasts for ever and for evermore.

Interval

Part the Second - Scene Two

Recitative – Raphael

And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind, cattle, and creeping thing, and beast of the earth, after his kind.
Straight opening her fertile womb,
The earth obey'd the word,
And teem'd creatures numberless,
In perfect forms, and fully grown.
Cheerful, roaring, stands the tawny lion.
With sudden leap the flexible tiger appears.
The nimble stag bears up his branching head.
With flying mane and fiery look,
impatient neighs the noble steed,
The cattle, in herds, already seek their food
On fields and meadows green,
And o'er the ground, as plants, are spread
The fleecy, meek, and bleating flocks,
Unnumber'd as the sands,
in swarms arose the hosts of insects.

In long dimension creeps,
with sinuous trace, the worm.

Air

Now heaven in fullest glory shone;
Earth smil'd in all her rich attire;
The room of air with fowl is filled;
The water swell'd by shoals of fish;
By heavy beasts the ground is trod:
But all the work was not complete;
There wanted yet that wondrous being,
That, grateful, should God's power admire,
With heart and voice his goodness praise.

Recitative – Uriel

And God created Man in his own image,
in the image of God created he him.
Male and female created he them.
He breathed into his nostrils the breath of life,
and man became a living soul.

Air

In native worth and honour clad,
With beauty, courage, strength, adorn'd,
Erect, with front serene, he stands
A man, the lord and king of nature all.
His large and arched brow sublime
Of wisdom deep declares the seat!
And in his eyes with brightness shines
The soul, the breath and image of his God.
With fondness leans upon his breast
The partner for him form'd,
A woman, fair and graceful spouse,
Her softly-smiling virgin looks,
Of flow'ry spring the mirror,
Bespeak him love, and joy, and bliss.

Recitative – Raphael

And God saw every thing that he had made,
and behold, it was very good.
And the heavenly choir, in song divine, thus closed the sixth day.

Chorus

Achieved is the glorious work;
The Lord beholds it, and is pleas'd.
In lofty strains let us rejoice,
Our song let be the praise of God.

Trio

Gabriel and Uriel

On thee each living soul awaits; From thee, O
Lord, all seek their food;
Thou openest thy hand,
And fillest all with good.

Raphael

But when thy face, O Lord, is hid,
With sudden terror they are struck;
Thou tak'st their breath away,
They vanish into dust.

Gabriel, Uriel and Raphael

Thou sendest forth thy breath again,
And life with vigour fresh returns;
Revived earth unfolds new strength
And new delights.

Chorus

Achieved is the glorious work;
Our song let be the praise of God
Glory to his Name for ever.
He sole on high exalted reigns. Hallelujah!

Part the Third

Introduction – Morning

Recitative – Uriel

In rosy mantle appears, by music sweet awak'd,
The morning, young and fair,
From heaven's angelic choir
Pure harmony descends on ravish'd earth.
Behold the blissful pair,
Where hand in hand they go: their glowing looks
Express the thanks that swell their grateful hearts.
A louder praise of God their lips
Shall utter soon; then let our voices ring,
United with their song.

Duet – Adam and Eve

By thee with bliss, O bounteous Lord,
Both heaven and earth are stor'd.
This world so great, so wonderful.
Thy mighty hand has fram'd

Chorus

For ever blessed be his power,
His name be ever magnified.

Adam

Of stars the fairest, pledge of day,
That crown'st the smiling morn;
And thou, bright sun, that cheer'st the world,
Thou eye and soul of all;

Chorus

Proclaim in your extended course
th'almighty power and praise of God.

Eve

And thou that rul'st the silent night
And all ye starry hosts,
Ev'rywhere spread wide his praise
In choral songs about.

Adam

Ye mighty elements, by his power
Your ceaseless changes make;
Ye dusky mists, and dewy streams,
That rise and fall thro' th' air;

Chorus

Resound the praise of God our Lord.
Great his name, and great his might.

Eve

Ye purling fountains, tune his praise;
And wave your tops, ye pines.
Ye plants, exhale, ye flowers, breathe
To him your balmy scent.

Adam

Ye that on mountains stately tread,
And ye that lowly creep;
Ye birds that sing at heaven's gate,
And ye that swim the stream;

Eve and Adam

Ye creatures all, extol the Lord;

Chorus

Ye creatures all, extol the Lord;
Him celebrate, him magnify.

Eve and Adam

Ye valleys, hills, and shady woods,
Made vocal by our song,
From morn till eve you shall repeat
Our grateful hymns of praise.

Chorus

Hail! Bounteous Lord! Almighty, hail!
Thy word call'd forth this wondrous frame,
The heavens and earth thy power adore;
We praise thee now and evermore.

This next section is often omitted in performances

[Recitative – Adam

*Our duty we have now perform'd,
In offering up to God our thanks.
Now follow me, dear partner of my life,
Thy guide I'll be; and every step
Pours new delights into our breasts,
Shows wonders everywhere.
Then mayst thou feel and know the high degree
Of bliss the Lord allotted us,
And with devoted heart His bounties celebrate.
Come, follow me, thy guide I'll be.*

Eve

*O thou for whom I am, my help, my shield,
My all, thy will is law to me;
So God our Lord ordains; and from obedience
Grows my pride and happiness.*

Duet – Adam

*Graceful consort, at thy side
Softly fly the golden hours;*

*Ev'ry moment brings new rapture,
Ev'ry care is lull'd to rest.*

Eve

*Spouse adored, at thy side
Purest joys o'erflow the heart;
Life and all I have is thine;
My reward thy love shall be.*

Adam and Eve

*The dew-dropping morn, O how she quickens all!
The coolness of even, O how she all restores!
How grateful is of fruits the savour sweet!
How pleasing is of fragrant bloom the smell!
But, without thee, what is to me
The morning dew, the breath of even,
The sav'ry fruit, the fragrant bloom?
With thee is every joy enhanced,
With thee delight is ever new,
With thee is life incessant bliss,
Thine, thine it all shall be.*

Recitative – Uriel

*O happy pair! And happy still might be
If not misled by false conceit.
Ye strive at more than granted is;
And more desire to know, than know ye should.]*

Chorus

Sing the Lord, ye voices all,
Magnify his name thro'all creation,
Celebrate his power and glory,
Let his name resound on high.
Praise the Lord. Utter thanks.
Jehovah's praise for ever shall endure.
Amen.
